Tendering For Local Supplies

Since The Journal has raised the idea of Mussolini Jim and Mussolini Bill by pointing out where they have been derelict in their duty in handling civic affairs, we have been commanded to submit tenders on printing required by the Town.

Now we believe the tender idea is a splendid one, and are of the opinion that it should be rigidly adhered to by the Town Fathers in making all purchases over, say, ten dollars. Personally, we are heartily in accord with this policy, as we believe it would save the ratepayers considerable money every year. IF IT WAS NOT CONFINED EXCLUSIVELY TO PRINTING.

The taxpayers have to dig up between $10,000 and $13,000 yearly to pay the running expenses of the Town. For printing, stationery and postage the Town spends less than $300 a year. If it is good business to tender for this small amount—and we believe it is—it would not be better business to tender for the much greater amounts spent in other ways? Of course, The Journal may not have got the council's viewpoint on this matter as it may just be possible their ideas is NOT to save the taxpayers' money, but shrouds a less praiseworthy motive.

However, we hope the policy of calling for tenders for all work and supplies required by the Town and School Board will "broaden out" during 1927. It is the hang man's nose and the electric chair rolled into one for all forms of petty graft usually to be found in municipal circles where this policy is not in operation.

Criticism Does Good

Capt. Shaw's speech in criticism of the U. F. A. Government is a most healthy thing for the Government. That speech alone should make for Better Government, whether all he said is true or not, no person, party or organization should ignore criticism. It is the firmest foundation upon which to build for the future. If for no other reason the Opposition Leader's salary should be maintained, that "both sides of the question" shall be presented.

"This is an age of steel" said the after-dinner speaker.

"Permit me to suggest," interrupted the chairman courteously, "that for the benefit of the reporters present you spell that last word."

Jimmie: "Do you believe killing is unhealthy?"

Gladys: "I couldn't say, I've never...."

Jimmie: "You've never been kissed?"

Gladys: "I've never been sick."

Big Dance Next Monday

The attention of our readers is called to the big dance to be given under the auspices of the I. K. Slovok Society in the Opera House, Coleman, on Monday evening, Feb. 28th. The committee in charge have all arrangements completed for this big affair and the dance will no doubt prove one of the best held here this season. Remember the date, Monday of next week.

The Arkansas legislature has banned the teaching of evolution from the schools of the state. In the old days the church took a similar stand against Copernicus when he propounded the theory of the solar system. Nobody now denies the truth of the theories of the early scientist.

In a small town you don't read the choicest news; you hear it.

Salvation Army Entertainment

On March the 4th in the Coleman Opera House, the Salvation Army are putting on a very fine program for their young people. This will take the form of a musical evening, consisting of vocal and instrumental talent, marches by the children and fan drills, also a tableau entitled, "The Way of Life." Vocal solos will be given by Lieut. Corrie of Ferne, (soprano) solo by Lieut. T. Wagner (tenor) and quartettes, trombone solo by Lieut. Wagner, and a tableau by Capt. M. Stratton and Lieut. Corsie entitled, "Who Will Take The Cross Into The Crowd," and other numbers by local members of the Army.

The public is cordially invited to spend a pleasant evening with the Army on this occasion. They do not often make a charge for their entertainments but this is something extra special. Adults 25¢, children 15¢. Secure your ticket early and thus help the Army make this affair a financial success. They will appreciate it.

Don't forget the Campaign to be conducted by Commandant W. H. Carroll, O. B. E., commencing on Saturday, March 6th, the night following the entertainment. Come and enjoy a real program. Watch for further announcements in next week's Journal.

Going To Be Good?

Since The Journal has it on good authority that our civic fathers have publicly stated they will in future obey the law in conducting Municipal business, we will allow the matter to rest for the time being at least. If these worthy gentlemen keep their promise it will be the first time in seven years that they have thus complied with the provisions of the Town Act in this regard.

A Case of Two Extremes Meeting

All the labor members except Phil Christopher attended the Lieutenant-governor's reception to members, following the opening of the session. Phil said he did not have anything against the governor, but he did not believe in that sort of thing. Did it occur to Phil that there may be extremes? Snobs are one extreme in society. What would you call the other extreme? But there may be a happy medium.

Those American text books in Alberta's public schools are causing the provincial government a considerable amount of worry. This saving of a few dollars sometimes proves to be false economy. Cheap text books in our schools and no financial statements in our towns, are two glaring examples of being penny wise and pound foolish.

An evangelist recently declared that there will be no eternal torment for the wicked, but when the unrighteous are punished it will be with fire from heaven that will die out after it has consumed its victim. This is comforting news to a lot of us.

The editor of the Camrose Canadian says that the trees at this time of the year are nearly as bare as the flappers in his town. He is evidently an enthusiastic student of nature.

Ratepayers' Meeting

A ratepayers meeting of the Town and School Board took place in the Town Hall last Friday evening. The hoary old excuses were offered by the Town Fathers for not complying with the provisions of the Town Act and a promise was made that they would do better in the future. The Journal understands that the financial statement of the Town is to appear in pamphlet form in the near future. Upon receipt of a copy we may have something to say about the Town's financial condition.

The School Board, for the first time in the memory of the oldest resident here, also submitted a statement of the past year's transactions.

The figures given out showed that the total expenses of operating our schools was $30,246.75. Teachers salaries were $21,930.00, caretaking $3,865.00, the balance being made up of secretary-treasurer's salary, insurance, fuel and other incidental costs.

Current taxes collected amounted to $26,766.53, arrears collected $9,424.10, government grant $3,627.85, educational tax $1,824.00, rentals $52.00. Balance on hand at end of December $15,980.61. Tax arrears outstanding at the end of the year amounted to approximately $19,000.00.

Installing Stand Pipe.

Frozen water connections on 6th and 6th streets have caused the Coleman Light & Water Company much extra work and expense during the past three or four weeks. Four or five men have been almost constantly engaged, with the help of an electric heating apparatus, in trying to cope with this work and thus give consumers uninterrupted service. However, the company is finding it impossible to keep continually thawing out individual connections, so they are installing a stand pipe on 6th street to supply householders with water.

Trail Rangers

The number one team of Trail Rangers hockey players are expecting to meet the local Shamrocks in a short game at the "Funfest" Soins' sort of handicap for the game has been decided on. The boys are looking forward to the contest.

Mrs. Fraser, 5th street, entertained the boys at supper on Tuesday evening of this week and afterwards at the theatre. The party was in honor of the boys having been successful in winning the Trail Ranger trophy for The Pass.

The School Board, for the first time in the memory of the oldest resident here, also submitted a statement of the past year's transactions.

"Funfest" Postponed

The "Funfest" which was to have taken place in the local Arena on Wednesday evening of this week, has been postponed for a week to enable the committee in charge to enlarge their program of events and thus make the affair bigger and better than was first planned. Buy your ticket and get in on this big affair. Watch posters for some date next week.

General Motors Erect Theatre and Convention Hall

The increasing interest which modern industry is taking in the personal and social welfare of its employees is well illustrated by the combination theatre, convention building and recreation hall which General Motors of Canada, Limited, is completing at Oshawa, Ont.

The structure, formerly a lunch room, is being altered and rebuilt into a building which compares favorably with many of the "little theatres" in the larger cities of North America.

H. L. Broonfield, Manager of Industrial Relations for the Company, expects that the $10,000 invested in the "little theatre" will return large dividends in the efficiency and contentment of the Company's personnel.

The building as now arranged is 30 by 95 feet in size. It will seat comfortably more than 100 persons. At one end is a stage 20 by 80 feet, equipped with the latest lighting equipment. At the other end is an elevated motion picture projection room, wash room, cloak room and a small kitchen. The floor is of polished maple.

The primary function of the building is for use as a lecture room. In the centre of the stage is a 14 foot circular turn-table section which can be revolved upon ball bearings. Two wide doors on the sides of the stage permit a car or chassis to be run upon the stage and turned conveniently to illustrate technical lectures to employees.

"But the building also will serve a wide variety of purposes" said Mr. Broonfield. "It will be available for dancing, movie shows, amateur theatricals and social gatherings.

The stage about 'all work' and no play makes Jack a dull boy" is merely one way of expressing the truth that relaxation and entertainment are necessary in the scheme of good industrial psychology."

According to reliable information received this week, we understand the local civic authorities have placed an order somewhere for the printing of their financial statements, so it should not be long before this much discussed document is in the hands of every ratepayer.

Looks Like Coal Strike in States

MIAMI, Feb. 22.—The joint conference of miners and operators ended today in failure to reach a new agreement to replace the Jacksonville agreement which expires on March 31.

Adjournment sine die followed acceptance of the report of a subcommittee which could not reconcile diverse demands by the wage scale committee of miners and operators.

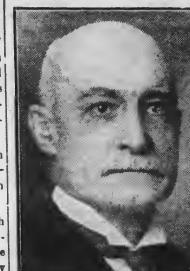

Unless negotiations are resumed elsewhere and an agreement reached before April 1, union miners automatically will cease labor in the central bituminous field.

Knights of Pythias Celebrating Sixty-third Anniversary of the Order

Under a proclamation issued by Supreme Chancellor Richard S. Witte, Milwaukee, Wis., nearly a million men, members of the Order Knights of Pythias, in more than six thousand subordinate lodges in the United States and Canada, will celebrate the sixty-third anniversary of the founding of the Order during the present week. Observing a program prepared for this ceremony the membership will review the welfare wrought by the fraternity and analyse the progress and objectives of this great fraternal organization.

The Pythian Order was founded February 19th, 1864, in Old Temperance Hall, Washington, D. C. by Justice H. Rathbone and twelve charter members, most of whom were employees of the government. A review of the achievements

Health Broken—Lost 66 lbs. Now Well, Won Back 82 lbs. Ottawa merchant, formerly city officer, rundown by kidney trouble. Wasted from 201 to 135 lbs. Tandac restored robust health; now weighs 217 lbs. and feels fine

Philip Quinn, merchant at 285 St. Patrick St., is well known in Ottawa. Mr. Quinn was formerly a police officer. When ill-health seized him he lost weight rapidly. His kidneys were failing and he fell into a condition which gave up a hopeless case. Many times, from sheer weakness, I have fallen down in good, hard to be lifted by my feet.

Pain racked my entire system, especially my back, which felt like being pulled apart. I could not eat nor sleep normally. Weak spells and nervousness would leave me numb and weak. I had been over me three years, from 201 to 135 lbs. and tried every treatment and remedies in those 3 years, without result.

Tandac restored my entire system, especially my back, which felt like being pulled apart. I could not eat nor sleep normally. Weak spells and nervousness would leave me numb and weak. I had been over me three years, from 201 to 135 lbs. and tried every treatment and remedies in those 3 years, without result.

Now I weigh 217 lbs., eat and sleep like a healthy boy, and feel like a different man altogether. Every day I am stronger. I am taking full enjoyment again. Tandac is nature's own tonic, made from roots, bark and berries. Your draught will be R. Over 32 million bottles sold.

It's All In The State Of Mind

If you think you are beaten, you are.

If you think you don't, you don't.

If you think you'd like to win, but you can't,

You're beaten. You're lost.

Put out in the world you'll find

Succes begins with a "below" will

It's all in the state of mind.

Put more a race is lost,

If it's even a race is won.

And most a contest falls.

Even his work's been.

Think big, and your ideals will grow.

Think small, and you fall behind.

Think positive, and you'll win.

It's all in the state of mind.

If you think you are outclassed, you are;

You've got to think high to rise;

You've got to be sure of yourself before

You'll be sure to rise.

Life's battles don't always go

To the stronger or faster man;

But sooner or later, the man who wins

Lies in the state of mind.

Thousands of men and women are now earnestly looking forward to the breakup of winter and are beginning to plan their work which lies ahead. The farmer is giving thought to the crops he will sow, the manufacturer to his machinery, looking into the matter of good, clean seed, and is becoming impatient for the frost to come out of the ground in order that he may begin turning over the furrows. The farm wife is beginning to think of her poultry and vegetable garden. In the cities and towns plans are being laid for building operations, civic officials are preparing programmes of improvements, men and women are studying seed catalogues and dreaming of their gardens to be. Everywhere, everybody is looking forward.

People, too, are asking themselves the question: "What will the year bring forth?" Generally, a feeling of optimism prevails. Perhaps never before in our country's history has there been such unanimity among the heads of all banks, insurance companies, financial and industrial concerns, railway executives, and business men—mainly of the commercial and conservatory type, in predicting that Canada is on the eve of a remarkable, unprecedented development. There is a hopeful feeling everywhere.

It is believed that 1927 will be a year of opportunity, although nothing in the nature of a "boom" is expected or desired. Western people have already learned the lesson that substantial, permanent prosperity can only rest on strong foundations; that to build on paper is to invite disaster. For this reason there is danger that some people will be timid in grasping opportunities which present themselves even though they are in a sound position to take full advantage of them. Their very timidity, their lack of confidence in themselves, or in their country, may be their own undoing.

The lines quoted at the opening of this article are, however, and directed only to the attention of those who are fearless of launching out on some enterprise, and are willing to let all the people of Western Canada at this time do that for the year.

It is time today, as it has always been true, that the person who thinks he is beaten, is beaten. The beginning of success in the "battle" to succeed is determination never to acknowledge defeat. This, too, is my highest birth-right. Many and many a time in one Empire's history the outlook has been dark, defeat seemed inevitable, but our people would never admit it and fought on and on until victory was achieved and success crowned their efforts.

One of the factors in enabling George Young to swim Capilano channel and win the big prize offered was his confidence in himself. He was confronted with obstacles from the beginning of his journey from Toronto to California and all along the way, but he was convinced of his ability to win, and win he did. Courage and perseverance were his watchwords. He possessed the right state of mind.

Western Canadians, with their country of wonderful resources as an asset, are not afraid of anything to which they make up their minds and to which these determined souls are dedicated with real determination to achieve. Amazing things have been accomplished in the past, but the present offers equally great opportunities and still greater things can be done and richer rewards won if our people are convinced they can do these things and make up their minds to do them.

Total Eclipse of the Sun

Unusual Phenomena to be Witnessed
In England on June 29

Englishmen are invited to go to view on June 29, the first total eclipse of the sun which has visited England in 265 years and the last until 1999.

The belt of country in which the eclipse will be total is only 80 miles wide, running from the north of Wales in the west to Hartlepool on the North Sea in the east. So popular is the interest in the unusual event that several railroads will run special trains to various points in the belt.

The total eclipse begins over England at 2:25 P.M. Greenwich mean time and is visible in its totality from 21.5 seconds in the west to 2:15 seconds in the east.

Astronomers have pointed out that with a total eclipse, such as will be seen this year, the corona is visible, which is not the case with partial eclipses.

Several parties of astronomers are planning expeditions to Norway, where the visibility will be better than in England. Three Greenwich astronomers will take two telescopes and two spectroscopes to a station in Yorkshire, and other parties will go to both the west and east coasts of Wales.

Not a Worker's Paradise

Russians Receive Meagre Pay and Dare Not Ask More

For nearly ten years Russia has been under the "dictatorship of the proletariat," but not greatly to the advantage of the proletariat. A bulletin issued by the International Labor Bureau at Geneva shows the rates of wages received in Soviet Russia. Last summer Russian workers were getting 239 chevrotions rubles a day, before the deduction of tax, which is a little more than half a dollar; it is now a little more than half a dollar; it is now a little more than half a dollar; but even if the Russian workers were receiving as much as a dollar a day that would be meagre pay indeed when it is considered that the prices of all the necessities of life have advanced enormously.

But they must not demand more. It is dangerous to do that, in reply to a delegation of trade unionsists who went to him begging for more pay, M. Tomsky, of the Soviet council and president of the iron unions, told them that they must be patient and wait—that wages could not be raised until general economic conditions improved. He added that the general council would deal very severely with union groups that did not accept the decision of the council and the Soviet government in the matter of wages and working conditions. No, the proletariat is not having a good time in the realm where the proletariat is supposed to rule.

The Last Slaves

No Slavery Exists Where Floats the British Flag

With the British flag flying over Burma, ordered last month by the British Government, the last slave will disappear from territory under the control of Great Britain. Thus, within the space of thirty-four years the greatest menace to freedom and to development the world has ever known has been swept out of the British Empire. It has not been an easy task, for many vested rights, treaty reservations, and inherited privileges had to be dealt with. But the policy adopted by the British Government in the British West Indies in 1834 had been faithfully and steadily pursued ever since. Today no slavery exists beneath the British flag, or in British protectorates. Various forms of compulsory industrial service are still in vogue in far-off outposts and in certain Asian territories, but these are dying out and with the spread of education and the introduction of broader privileges, they will become obsolete. It is a theme concerning which Britain may be well content. The cause of justice and liberty may be slow, but it is irre sistible.—The Montreal Star.

I continued taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and was able to do my housework again. Now I am doing much better. Then I started taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, in a short while I felt better, and after taking the pills for a month my feet and legs were always swollen. Sun Life Annual StatementAn Outstanding Report

The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada continues to eclipse its own transcendent records. At the annual meeting for 1927 which has just been held, President T. B. Macaulay was able to report that the total business paid for in 1926 amounted to $265,889,546, double that of 1924—only two years ago. The assurance in force now exceed one and a quarter billions of dollars.

The Sun Life has become much more than our greatest Canadian company. It is one of the leading Life Insurance companies of the world. Its growth is equally arresting whether compared with its own record or with the totals of insurance on this continent. The increase of its business at risk in 1926 is greater than the entire business carried by the Sun Life at the outbreak of the war. It has now more business in force than the total life assurance in force in all Canada, with all companies, Canadian and foreign, when war was declared. Latest reports indicate that the general increase in life insurance secured during 1926 in the United States and Canada is six per cent in excess of 1925. The Sun Life's increase for the year is 8½ per cent.

Fully keeping step with this great access of business, the assets of the Company have increased during the past twelve months by $42,195,000, swelling the total to $345,251,000. The Company's assets have multiplied five times in the last twelve years.

The Company's successful investment policy is reflected in an analysis of its securities. Government valuers appraise a further increase in the excess value of the Company's securities over cost, of nearly $7,000,000. A profit of $7,000,000 has been realized by the redemption or sale of municipal debentures and other holdings which had risen to high premiums. The rate earned on the mean invested assets for the year rose to the phenomenal figure of 6.69 per cent, this being contributed to by dividend increases, bonuses and other privileges granted on the Company's holdings.

From the total surplus earned during the year, $20,457,077, the Company has made large and prudent appropriations. After making these allocations, which add substantially to the unassimilable security of the Company, an addition of $5,715,564 has been added to undivided profits, bringing the total surplus over all liabilities, contingency accounts and capital stock to $34,011,566.

Perhaps, however, the features of the report of outstanding interest to the public are those relating particularly to benefits to policyholders. During the year profits amounting to $9,235,526 were paid or allotted to policyholders, this amount being eight times in excess of the amount paid out ten years ago. For six years past increases in profits to policyholders have been announced, resulting in a doubling of the profits scale during that period. For the seventh successive time a further increase is announced. The great total of $35,678,458 has been paid out during the year in respect of death claims, matured endowments, etc., bringing the total so paid since organization to $257,816,174.

The high rate of interest earned enables the Company to distribute profits on the assumption of 5½ per cent per annum being earned on the Reserves. The same rate of interest is being allotted to beneficiaries on the proceeds of matured endowments and death claims left with the Company. In this way again, policyholders are participating in the great prosperity of the Company.

Not the least gratifying portion of the report is the fine showing of which are making Canada famous.

EXTRACTS FROM DIRECTORS' REPORT

The operations during the past year resulted in substantial advances in all departments...

The new policies paid for... almost double the figures of two years ago.

The assurances in force, after deduction of reassurances,... show an increase of.... over twenty-three per cent.

Policies and group certificates now outstanding aggregate well in excess of half a million.

The figures relating to resources and earning power are equally satisfactory.

The high quality and profitable character of our investments has again been demonstrated. As a result of continued reduction in prevailing rates of interest, and of satisfactory industrial conditions, there has been a further rise in the market values of our long-term bonds and of our preferred and other stocks. The appraisal of our securities made by the Government Insurance Department shows that the excess of market value over book value increased during the year by $6,894,266.26. In addition, the sum of $1,729,364.52 has been realized as net profit from the redemption or sale of municipal debentures and other securities which had risen to high premiums. The rate of interest earned on the mean invested assets has also risen to the remarkable figure of 6.69 per cent, as the result of substantial dividend increases, bonuses, and stock privileges received in connection with many of our holdings.

The quality of the investments listed in the assets may be judged from the fact that on 99.55 per cent of the bonds and on 99.71 per cent of the preferred stocks, not one dollar of interest has been in arrears for even one day.

On our common stock the dividends now being received are greatly in excess of the dividends payable on the same stocks at time of purchase.

The total surplus earned during the year amounted to $20,457,077.28. From this the following appropriations have been made:

The sum of $2,000,000 has been deducted from the official valuation of our securities to provide for possible fluctuations in market values. This raises the amount set aside for this purpose to $5,000,000. In other words, the value at which our securities are carried in the balance sheet is $5,000,000 less than the appraisal made by the Government authorities.

The account to provide for unforeseen contingencies has been increased by $1,000,000 bringing the total under this heading to $11,000,000.

The book value of our Head Office building has been written down by a further sum of $250,000 though it certainly could not be replaced at even its original cost.

An additional amount of $400,000 has been set aside to provide for greater longevity of annuitants. The total held under this heading in excess of Government requirements is now $1,500,000.

The reserves on the newly acquired business of the Cleveland Life, and on other re-assured policies, have been raised to the same high standard as that used for the valuation of liabilities under our own contracts.

To our policyholders, profits have been paid or allotted during the year to a mount of $9,235,526.80.

After making these deductions and allocations an additional of $2,074,56 has been made to the undivided profit. The surplus over all liabilities, contingency account and capital stock, now stands at $34,011,565.25.

For six years in succession we have increased the profits to participating policyholders. During this period our profit scale has been doubled. While the assurances in force have multiplied two and a half times since 1920, the amount paid or allotted as profits to policyholders has multiplied five and a half times. We are gratified to announce, for the seventh consecutive time, a further increase in the scale of profits to be distributed to our policyholders in the ensuing year.

ments of this great American fraternity is a thrilling narrative of service to the citizenship founded on the basis of equality.

Summarizing the human relations of the Order, Supreme Chancellor Witte recently said: "It is fraternity applied, teaching men a higher ideal in life, giving them a new faith in themselves, an effective weapon against ignorance and vice. It has reared orphans on a hundred hills; made havens for the aged; poured out a stream of gold to the widow and orphan through the beneficence of its Insurance Department, and has been the star of light and hope to the weak, the guardian of the good name of every member."

In physical assets the Order stands without a peer among fraternal societies. There are fifty-six subordinate Lodges, including land, castle halls and cash in hand amount to more than $80,000,000. Hundreds of lodges own their own ed and carrying on the work in the State of Province under its jurisdiction. There are approximately 6,800 subordinate lodges in as many cities and towns in North America.

Other lodges are operated under Supreme control in Alaska, Canal Zone, Hawaii, Honolulu and the Philippines Islands. Total assets of Subordinate Lodges, including land, castle halls and cash in hand amount to more than $80,000,000. Hundreds of lodges own their own homes, many of which are outstanding structures in the cities where located.

Thus for sixty-three years has the Order progressed by service. With its firm intrenchment financially, with a ritual exceeded by none, it occupies an enviable position in the realm of fraternity. It is not sectarian. Neither wealth, power nor influence are considered when a man of good character knocks at its doors.

The Nelson News congratulates the Fernie Hospital Committee on the able and efficient manner in which they conduct their business. They also spoke highly of the Fernie Miners' Association and its support of the Fernie Hospital. Speaking of the latter organization, it has been indeed a revelation to the miners themselves to find out how little actual money it has taken to run their union. The fees are only 50 cents a month, but they have had plenty of cash to meet running expenses, give a big picnic every year, make up wages to a large number of men who did not get in very many shifts during the quiet months, and help worthy objects on numerous other occasions. The men must often wonder what happened to the thousands and thousands of dollars, the accumulated dues amounted to, in the days when the monthly fees often reached two and three dollars.—Fernie Free Press

World's Poultry Congress

Alberta is expected to play a considerable part in the World's Poultry Congress which is to take place in Ottawa, July 27th to August 4th next, and Alberta poultry men are now preparing exhibits for this event. There will be more than 5,000 delegates from foreign countries.

Municipal Hospitals

Success of the rural municipal hospital system in operation in Alberta, and the careful management of the seventeen hospitals operating under the scheme, is indicated in the fact that every one of the seventeen hospital districts now have cash surpluses to their credit ranging from $750 to $30,000.

Canada's birth rate, 23.4 per 1000, is the highest among the white races of the world, according to an Alberta statistician. Australia comes second with a rate of 23.2, while England and Wales, with a low rate of 18.8 falls slightly below that of France, and is only a little above Sweden, the lowest in the list of white races.

Importance Of Maintaining Moisture In The Indoor Air During The Winter Months

The extreme importance of maintaining sufficient moisture in the indoor air during the heating season has never been fully realized in Canada. Of course, everyone knows, in a general way, that the atmosphere of our houses is much too dry in the winter months, but very few realize the extent to which the condition affects our health and comfort, not to mention the increased consumption of fuel and destruction to house furniture.

Insulated houses without artificial means of humidification, are particularly liable to develop unhealthy living conditions in winter.

The human nose performs all the duties of a well-ordered air conditioning plant in three ways, acting as a filter for dust and bacteria, heating the air which enters the lungs and humidifying it to 40 per cent relative humidity. If no hot dry air is breathed continuously, the nose is called on to furnish large amounts of moisture, resulting in the drying of the mucous membranes and nasal secretions, the subsequent irritation and swelling of the tender membranes of the throat and nose. This frequently causes bronchitis and diphtheria, and prepares a receptive field for disease germs.

The New York State Commission, in their investigation of ventilation conditions in the schools of the State, found that they were able to reduce the temperature in the school rooms from 78 degrees Fahrenheit to 65 degrees by the proper humidification of the air, without loss of comfort. That is, the effective temperature was lowered ten degrees.

They also determined that the children's inclination to work was increased 35 per cent by the cooler atmosphere. In an industrial investigation this commission proved that excessive heat promotes premature fatigue. Subjects under test, working on piece-work, receiving a bonus for quantity of work in addition to flat rate, did 13 per cent more work at 65 degrees than at 75 degrees.

The excessively high temperature required for comfort in dry air, especially in winter, is bad. Temperatures of 75 degrees to 80 degrees are common in houses with low humidity, whereas only 65 degrees Fahrenheit is necessary for comfort in a properly moistened atmosphere.

In houses, particularly those not insulated, the raising of the temperature from 70 degrees Fahrenheit to 80 degrees Fahrenheit is usually difficult and requires forcing of fires with a subsequent loss of efficiency in the burning of coal. Although the evaporation of water to produce proper humidification requires some heat, a considerable overall fuel saving is effected owing to the lower temperature required for comfort.

Considerable controversy has arisen between various authorities on humidity conditions as to the actual amount of fuel saved in this way. Some investigators contend that very little saving is accomplished, while others maintain that economies amounting to 15 per cent are possible. The general consensus of opinion according to an analysis by the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of Agriculture, however, is that a net saving of from 5 to 10 per cent of fuel may be made in the average house by moistening the air to the proper degree.

Winnipeg Cadets Win Honors

Capture Second Place in Shooting Competition for British Empire

The Tenth Canadian Veterinary Corps and Cadet corps of Winnipeg, Manitoba, have been awarded the Governor-General's trophy for general proficiency during the competition further honours, in the annual rifle shooting contests in which nearly 28,000 boys in most parts of the empire competed, further compilation of the results show. Shooting in the Senior Imperial Challenge Shield event, the Winnipeg corps tied for second place with an average of 93.47. The Australian Naval Reserve college of Edgewick, N.S.W., had captured the shield, the average of 97.00.

His Majesty King George has written to the National Rifle Association, under whose auspices the contests are conducted annually, expressing much satisfaction at the result of the competition for the King's trophy, in which the Canadian team placed second, a point behind the South African winners of the trophy. The South African shooters compiled an average of 97 points, while the British team, in his letter his majesty states that he considers the excellent scores made by the boys throughout the empire reflect great credit on the boys and adds that the instructors believe the Canadian competitors deserve great pride for their marksman ship.

Possibilities of Gardening at Fort Vermilion, Alberta

The reports of the experimentalists in charge of the Dominion stations in the far north, just published at Ottawa, are of special interest as showing the possibilities of agriculture in that region. Three varieties of radish sown at Fort Vermilion, Alberta, April 24, were ready for use early in June. Long White Icicle sown June 6 were ready June 18. They were excellent quality and remained in use until late autumn. Cauliflower is usually a good crop, it is sown under glass about April 24, is transplanted a month later and ready for use in another month.

Carrots and Brussels sprouts were treated the same way, about the same time, and were harvested in September. Tomatoes sown in hot beds April 27 and transplanted June 1, were harvested between August 5 and 18. Earliest of all yielded 165 pounds, large in size and of good quality. Bloody Beast, Danish Export, and Earlham were also of good quality. Garden beans sown May 5 were available July 4. Twelve varieties of beans sown May 6 were harvested between the 10th and 20th days after the middle of July. They were all good and tender only a few variety being stringy. Eleven varieties of broad beans sown May 6 were ready for use about August 4, and all of good quality. Onions suffered from the root maggot but the returns of four varieties were good and of two, they were generally ready for use around the middle of June. Celery, rhubarb, pumpkins, cucumbers and potato did very well. Three varieties of table corn sown July 7 were ready from August 12 to 14 and ran from 34 to 42 inches in height. Ifewes Alberta Flint was the most

Expect Caution to be Ready for the Diamond Jubilee

The carillon bells which are to be installed in the tower of Canada's main block of the parliament buildings, Ottawa, will start their voyage across the Atlantic ocean within a week or two, according to the latest advices from the chime makers of Croydon, Eng., who are shaping the huge bells. First of all will come the framework on which the bells are to stand, this, too, being tried out at the Croydon factory.

At this end it is understood erection can be delayed until the present session of parliament is ended on account of the noise which the installation of the bells will cause.

However, it is expected there will be no difficulty in having the carillon in working order in time for the official opening, July 1, of Canada's Diamond Jubilee year of Confederation.

A Benefactor

A public benefactor is one who helps people to be happy. Such a man is Dr. Piero's Piero. He is suffering—in pain or distress. To improve health and strength to all people he gave his permission. During his lifetime, he gave to the world a priceless herbal remedy in his Favorec. Prescription, for restoring health, strength, and vigour, over-worked women, and thereby increasing happiness in the home. As an additional honor, he honored citizen Dr. Piero was known and near for integrity and fair dealing. His phenomenal success was due to the unquestioned purity of his medicines.

Made Book a Success

Confusion Over Names Brought Fame to British Author

How a book otherwise destined for failure, became a success owing to confusion in the public mind, is told by Mrs. E. L. Hill, public librarian, Edmonton, who has an autographed letter of R. D. Blackmore, author of "Lorna Doone." Despairing of selling the book, the English publisher slipped the greater part of the edition to the Advertiser in the hope that it might find a market. It did, and became a peculiar coincidence. The Marquis of Lorne harbored the Princess Louise. The names Lorne and Lorna became confused in the public mind and the rumor went abroad that the Marquess of Lorne was in some way connected with the book. Interest was awakened and the demand for "Lorna Doone" became so great that the shipment had to be brought back.

"CASCARETS" FOR BOWELS, STOMACH, HEADACHE, COLDS

Clean your liver and constipated bowels to-night and feel fine.

Get a ten cent box now. Are you keeping your liver, stomach and bowels clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passing stool every few days with salts, soap suds or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, restore the soil, undigestible food and turn fat into fat; gases; the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the contaminated waste matter and poison in the body.

No odds how sick, headache, bilious and constipated you feel, a Cascarets bottle will straighten you out, bring the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the contaminated waste matter and poison in the body.

A woman who saw Mrs. Coolidge on one of her recent trips, raved over the first lady of the land to her husband. She said: "Mrs. Coolidge is so smiling, so gracious, and looks so young and fresh. But her husband looks old and worn, and his smile is as spontaneous as hers." The husband listened awhile, and then said: "Well, as far as Coolidge has to do with it, he is a good kind of man, but her husband has been President of the United States, no wonder he looks old and worn. There's a difference."

Isn't that the case with a good many husband and wife? If the husband looks old and tired, and their smiles are not quite so radiant as that of their wives, it is because the "old man" is carrying the burden. Written by a woman—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Would Employ Jail Labor in Pickling Over Seed Grains
"I believe that if penitentiaries throughout the country would adopt a system of employing jail labor during the winter months in picking over farmer's seed grain, that a great all-around benefit to the people of Canada would result." Among G. Dawson, the president of the Ontario Jails, mentioned today with regard to his experiment of employing jail prisoners to pick over beans instead of working on the customary "rock pile."

"Farmers could arrange with jails to have their seed grain picked over at a nominal price and the money thus earned could be turned over to the prisoner's wife or family," said the governor.

Ex-Kaiser Still Autocratic
Refused to Receive German General in Civil Clothes

Gen. Von Mackensen, the German cavalry leader who died in Paris in month's time the Romanoff Army of which the world had been told that it was the most perfectly equipped military force, was in England a few weeks ago. The Kaiser heard of the journey and expressed the wish that the General should pass by the way of Dover on his way back. One evening Von Mackensen stood at the gate. The Kaiser had dressed for dinner, but came out to the corridor to receive his former General in civilian clothes. Mackensen declined to the Chamberlain: "This is the court of William II, the German Emperor. I will not allow it to happen again!" And so Mackensen went without being invited to come in. To think Napoleon saw New in his underclothes!

Official Church of British Admiralty at St. Martin's, London

With the exception of abbey and cathedral choirs speaking world is probably St. Martin-in-the-Fields, London, to which a new vicar has just been appointed. The parish of St. Martin-in-the-Fields includes Buckingham Palace and St. James' Palace, and it is therefore the parish church of the King and Queen and of Wales. There are also pews and seats for the use of members of the Royal Household.

The church is not actually used by royalty as the parish church, as both Buckingham Palace and St. James' Palace have chapels of their own but the King and Queen do on occasion attend services.

St. Martin's is recognized as the official church of the admiralty and is allowed to fly the naval flag, the York Standard.

The church during the war earned for itself the title of the church of "Ever Open Door" as the crypt was kept open at night to house-stranded soldiers and others. Even today the crypt is kept open so that wayfarers may have shelter till morning.

Carrying the Burden

Claims Wonderful Discovery
Violinist Has Produced Varnish Give Strad Tone to Ordinary Violin

Quiroga Losada, the well-known violinist, asserts that he has discovered a varnish which, when applied to the ordinary violin, will produce the same tonal qualities of a Stradivarius.

"I believe I have brought back to life the magnificent tones of the great master," Losada said.

"After years of research I came to the conclusion that it was in the varnish of the Stradivarius instruments that the secret of the amazing smoothness of sound rested, and he produced a varnish which I hope to give free to the musicians of the world for the benefit of art."

He claims he has learned to make the varnish which is almost unbelievable. While not more than thirty-five dollars, Stradivarius is expensive. Losada's theory and formula, it is declared, are of great importance in music.

Notes are Invited
Canadian Bar Association Inviting

Lord Chief Justice of England

The Canadian Bar Association is inviting the Lord Chief Justice of England, Lord Stewart, to be the chief speaker at the annual meeting of the association to be held on August 21, 25, 26, in Toronto. An announcement of this was made at the close of a meeting of the council of the association which was held in Ottawa under the chairmanship of the president, Sir James Allard, of Winnipeg. The American Bar association and the Bar of Paris, France will be invited to send representatives.

The council unanimously passed a resolution urging the Dominion government to make provision for new accommodation for the supreme court of Canada and the exchequer court. The present accommodation is not regarded as adequate.

The New Era In Farming

(By C. W. Peterson)

There is scarcely a writer or public speaker who has not some time deplored the exodus from the farm to the city. Our newspapers are full of it, and it is popularly interpreted as a sign of agricultural dependence. That, however, is a superficial impression. I should more inclined to regard it as a movement toward a natural law. There was a time when individual farm produced little more than enough to maintain the family living. In the great majority of people then lived on farms. In some backward countries they still do. Then came the era of labor-saving machinery, chiefly brought about by the opening up of vast agricultural areas in the new countries where such devices could profitably be employed on account of the high rate of wages. At calculation now is, that farmer in 1892 produced twelve times as much as the farmer in 1821. Canada has profited greatly by this new era in agriculture. Her exports have increased by leaps and bounds in sympathy with the easy exploitation of her wonderful agricultural sources. Her greatest need now is more and yet more, farmers to help carry her enormous war burden and make the industrial areas of the country work overtime. There lies the solution of the perennial unemployment problem.

A Tower of Strength

The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, whose annual meeting has just been held, continues to transcend all record in its financial stability.

Its total assets for 1921 were $1,000,000,000, making the aggregate for 1920 $1,250,000,000. The Company's insurance paid during the past year was $1,000,000,000, and its total business paid for during the year was $1,000,000,000. The total premium for 1921 was $1,000,000,000, and its new business in force was then $1,000,000,000. The Company's assets in 1921 were $1,000,000,000, and its capital and surplus $63,000,000. Premiums on valuation basis were $1,000,000,000, and the increase in the excess of the Company's securities over cost price at $1,000,000,000.

From its total surplus of over $20,000,000 substantial appropriations have been made to contingencies, debts and other accounts. The sum of $5,000,000 has been set aside for the undivided profits. The total surplus over liabilities, contingencies and capital and surplus value is over $3,000,000.

The premium paid to policyholders has doubled in six years. For the seventh consecutive time the Company has been in the lead in the scale of policyholders.

The Sun Life Company has grown since taken on the proportions of a great institution, and today it ranks with the first three largest financial institutions of the Dominion and in the forefront of the great insurance companies of the world.

If you come from England, Ireland or Scotland you are pretty sure to be a tea drinker and a good judge of "good tea".

On that account we particularly request that you try a package of Red Rose Tea. You will find it has the "old home" taste, as Red Rose Tea was originally put up by a famous London firm. And in later years in our Canadian plant the blending and packing has been under the supervision of one of the best trained men of the London tea rooms.

You will enjoy Red Rose. It is what you will call "good tea".

"Every package is guaranteed."

Lady Weymouth, a sprightly, young woman of than English extraction, the one that shows that one can't grow old and remain the same, where the violin had been in each, Joanna was fond of Tedly, his sister's brother, but it was a shy girl she never quite revealed, but Weymouth was different, some from others of the crowd that moved from villa to villa, that shone supplement with its jewels and its silver backs at the Casino, opera, or cabaret, through the quiet lanes he wandered back from the main body of the town. She professed, openly, to be ever at the verge of matriculation, but one was quickly decided, she never was she as a truly thirty, but rapidly announced that she was in imminent danger of being arrested or being banished or something like that, for having deliberately bopped off two years from her birth certificate. "One must look at least a year with every baby," she liked to declare, "and I've already got two." She was desperately unconscious of any attractiveness of worthlessness upon the part of the ear, her brother, but often sat and talked with him for an hour at time. Which is seldom the way between brothers of the Tedly-Dorchester type and sisters of the Betty-Weymouth type. Tedly would have liked to have had Weymouth read how fond she was of her, but was ever afraid Betty Weymouth would take such approbation seriously.

"I am all eagerness to know about your feet," the visitor said at once, "for that is all I hear whispering, you know, to be doing something that is whispering about. I've been trying ever since I came down from London to get someone to drop their voices about me, but they won't. I put on a scandalous affair with Michael, that didn't work with me at the Opera when you presented Mr. Whinney, and I heard no echo. You're so terminated. The night before you took that little dash in a car with him and whiners were so thick you could cut them."

"A whisper doesn't count for much, though, does it?" Joanna asked the chaffing Betty Weymouth. "It's another like cocktail without gin in it. When there's really nothing to talk talk it right out loud, as I do."

Joanna rang for the butler and ordered tea. "May we have it served beside?" Lady Weymouth asked. "Some place where Brandon, whom I saw just now with Yvonne and Mr. Whinney over there on the lawn, or the others won't pop up to us. I've really something to say, you know."

Lady Betty smiled, and reached for a new cigarette. "My dear, you are so unromantic!" she said brightly. "One plane a speech, or a moment, and you talk it into something that doesn't sound right at all and hurt it back before it's given." She was earnest again. "I mean only that it wouldn't be fair to me, my brother, to our family, and least of all to you, dear girl, if you married Tedly. It would be hell for you, in fact. And worse than everything else, it would be hell for him. I love my brother Joanna, he's a good sort. Throw him over, and you won't like a good girl!"

"Really you know, I've never taken him on," Joanna retorted Lady Betty, and then added: "But I might, most any time. As you say, he's a good sort. And I like him tremendously. He's asked me to marry him, it's really interesting to me. You must tell me why —" She stopped. With her eyes she signalled the maid to serve the brandy and soda. Neither woman spoke while the ice was served and the mixture made. Then Joanna asked:

"Will you tell me why I am not worth of your brother? He knows me. You don't. Not and I am completely of you, feeling the same game. You human in your way, I am value. Your thrill may be different than mine, but we're women—or, at least. If you are a woman, I'm a girl, which is the same thing. It may, or may not be that I shall want Lord Tedly. Why not?"

"A Dorminster always has women," the other woman returned, "and he always puts these aside for a wife. The wife must be clean, and good. Are you both? You're modern, you know. You're learning and loving him, I think, honest, but not all body. I am all body, too, but I haven't the nerve that you have. You're not ashamed of it. A Dorminster must be ashamed of it. It's a Dorminster convention. Sardily won't have to say any more."

"Then sorry I said that, my dear," she said gently. "But it is just as well, perhaps, because it will open my way. I want to talk to you about the kind of love that is spoken of in the plural!" Joanna glanced at her sharply. This was a new Lady Weymouth.

"Or, it may be that it is love that isn't plural I will begin about," Lady Betty went on, after a moment's consideration. "The snicker that curled half-way from her lips, "It's about Tedly, you know. Tedly and your dear Teddy's a awful name. I guess he's kissed the hem of a thousand garments when he should have stopped at the fingers. But he's always said that no woman is ever approached by a man she doesn't speak to, and I, I must say, she ought to know."

Again she waited to watch the nebulous trail of the snicker writh that litened over her cigarette. Joanna "that's quah?" she exclaimed. "Positively quah. And as who? I still not be content now until people are talking out loud."

Jade and bamboo holder was poised midway between her lips and the table.

The brown eyes had become ivory black. Her lids were drawn close, until they shaped into two straight lines. "You mean," she said, "you were to stop knocking?"

Lady Betty was so startled that her cigarette slipped from her fingers to the floor. A maid appeared out of her toward proximity and recovered it. Lady Betty took the cigarette hand that held the retrieved tobacco.

"We mustn't make it a skirmish, my dear," she said to the girl when looked her full in the eyes. "I'm come not as a wife with a bargain to propose to her husband's mistress. I just Betty Weymouth dropped in to tell to her friend the Golden Girl, that she would be clumsy and generous and let a good chap down—let him down easily, but let him down. He loves you, dear, and he wants you. I've always thought that there wasn't a woman in the world that wanted to have any woman he wanted—it should let him have her. That's gone with my brother, too. But he wants you for keeps. That's different, isn't it?"

"Yes, it's different," Joanna agreed. "Women are so free to be had those days, that's it's strange any man would want one. And you think I'm not the kind he ought to have—in that way?"

Lady Betty smiled, and reached for a new cigarette. "My dear, you are so unromantic!" she said brightly.

"One plane a speech, or a moment, and you talk it into something that doesn't sound right at all and hurt it back before it's given." She was earnest again. Here and There

Lethbridge—Ready made irrigated district has surely broken all wheat records with a yield of 72 bushels of Turkey Red winter wheat to the acre on a 37 acre field. This unusual feat was achieved on the farm of Armour and Brimble.

Honey from Ontario, in competition with exhibits from all parts of the world, was awarded first and second prizes at the British Dairy Show held recently in London, England, according to a cable received by the Ontario Honey Producers' Cooperative Ltd.

Vancouver—A giant merger of timber interests in British Columbia, Washington and Oregon, involving $400,000,000 of capital, is to be effected from plans now under way, according to "The Daily Province." Several of the British Columbia mills—a quarter or a third of the whole—are said to be favorably inclined to the amalgamation.

Montreal—Despite the lateness of the season new immigration to Canada continues at quite an active rate. Week-end arrivals of the Canadian Pacific Steamships "Montana," "Empress of Canada" and "Manitoba" disposed approximately 1,250 third class passengers to be added to Canada's population. Included in the new arrivals was the first contingent of British youth to come out to Alberta under the extension of the Headley scheme.

Manitoba's tourist traffic for the 1926 season left over $7,000,000 in the province, according to the Winnipeg Tourist and Convention Bureau. From the United States a total of 100,710 visitors came into the province, of which number 75,012 stayed for a day while 30,968 remained for a longer time. The average stay of the latter was 3½ days. The increase of cars entering the province over those of the previous year was approximately 45 per cent.

THE SALVATION ARMY
10 Days Campaign, March 5th to 14th
In the Opera House, Coleman
Conducted by Commandant W. H. Carroll, O.B.E.

Commandant W.H. Carroll, O.B.E., of the Salvation Army is a prominent personage in Western Canada. He will visit Coleman for a ten days special gathering in the Opera House, commencing on March 5th. Definite arrangements are being made for the order of the Services to be announced by hand bills and through the Press.

The Captain is one of the oldest Salvation Army Officers in the country and has commanded some of the largest Salvation Army Corps in Great Britain and Canada. Perhaps he is best known through this country as Padre Carroll for his loyal and self-sacrificing service among the soldiers Overseas. His military rank being that of Captain, which rank he still maintains. He was one of the last Chaplains to leave France. For his service and devotion to duty he was mentioned in dispatches by Sir Douglas Haig and was one of the few chaplains who was made an officer of the Order of the British Empire, which carries with it a splendid gold decoration.

Unfortunately since Captain Carroll returned from Overseas he has been under hospital treatment for 26 months. The operations he underwent, not proving a success has left him without the power of grip in both hands. On account of this and other physical disabilities the officials of the Salvation Army, both in Canada and London, England, have relieved the Captain of any heavy responsibilities and placed him on the retired list. His last official appointment was that of commanding the largest Citadel in Winnipeg, since that time as health would not allow, he has been preaching and lecturing in different Provinces. The Commandant is a convincing and earnest speaker and keeps firmly to the preaching of the Gospel truths, although when necessary he has been very outspoken on some of the questions concerning capital and labor. On one of these occasions the Captain found himself in an awkward position, after speaking on the subject of "Master and Man." One of the audience stood up and proposed that they make the Captain a miners leader. There was a great coal lookout at the time and the Captain, with his workers, looked after feeding the children of the locked out men, his average family being 1,000 per day for 10 weeks, and there is nothing the Captain prizes more than the splendid Bible given him by the miners of the town and which he still uses during his campaign work.

The people of Coleman must not forget to hear the Captain whilst in our midst. ALL ARE WELCOME, come and hear him in the Opera House for ten days, March 5th to 14th.
